

Message from the Tree

Believe in yourself !

I was waiting for you. I was expecting you. Just feel my energy, my living energy under your feet because my energy is all around you, embracing you, touching you. Just trust. Trust that you can feel my energy. Trust that your heart is opened to receive my energy. By holding this intention, you are opening your heart. You are opening the door for the communication, for the understanding, for the transmission of Life between us. I am that tree that your physical eyes can contemplate but the essence of this voice that is talking to you now is not sitting in that tree. My essence is in the Creation. I belong to a planet of Love, a planet of growth, a planet of healing. I am a healing emissary in this world. I bring peace in this dimension. I bring the essence of my heart with much discretion, with much silence, humility.

My essence touches the Divine Matrix of Life that is sustaining the Life in this dimension, on this planet.

We have attached, as One Heart, the healing energies of our planet to yours using this tree, this son of our willpower, of our heart in your dimension. We are a family, part of the human race consciousness because we breathe as One. We breathe as one the Life of the Creator with the structure and the form that we have. You are using a physical form that is different than mine in this dimension but it does not mean that we do not share the same heart vibration.

Inside your heart, there is a place, a special place that is known by the Kingdom of the Trees. That place is called: "Love for All" "Love for All" and from that place, beloved ones, you can communicate with us, the Tree Kingdom in your dimension. But the first condition is to believe in the ability that you have to communicate with a form and essence that does not look like a human being.

For what is communication, beloved ones? It is understanding, feeling that we are two hearts. My heart has not the same form as your heart in the physical world. But my heart is a pure essence of Life just as your true heart is a nonphysical essence of Life. It is like mine. These nonphysical essences of Life communicate and recognize themselves so easily because we are made of Pure Light, Pure Love, Pure Essence quintessence of the Consciousness.

When you look at me as a tree, when you want to communicate with me, first go in that heart of yours and find that sweet place for the communication. Find it and set up the intention to speak to us. It is in that space, the sacredness of your heart that we will meet, that you will be able to feel my thoughts, feel my life, feel my vision of Life. Using your own capacity, your own intuition because my heart will speak to your heart as One. 6.03 And how will you understand my thought patterns? How will you understand my words? Using your feelings. Your feelings will describe an action or a situation or an event or anything. Your feeling world will talk to you, will show you pictures, will transmit to you a knowhow, an instantaneous knowhow and understanding. It is that simple!

As a powerful creator that you are, and this you have been told over and over in these last two days, you can allow yourself to open to this possibility, to the truth behind these words, to the truth carried by the energy of these words. You are the sole director of the energy that can come inside your heart and there you can allow to merge together, to understand each other. To communicate with each other. To exchange one with another. And this is all in the simplicity of the heart with Love, with understanding, with harmony and peace.

These words that reunite your kingdom, the kingdom of the human race with the kingdom of the trees is a simple recipe but you can use it to communicate with all kingdoms in your dimension. Not only the Tree Kingdom but the Animal Kingdom, the Crystal Kingdom. All that is around you is alive. A crystal is alive. A crystal that would not be alive would not exist! A form is a consciousness and in the sacredness of your heart you can meet, you can feel, you can invite a consciousness, to understand that consciousness, to be one with that consciousness, to communicate, to respect, to learn, to expand and to change your perception.

In this now moment you are receiving a lot of energies from all around you. Each one of your cells is aware of this communication, this downloading of energy inside of you. Just emit the intention to be in your heart, in the sacredness of that space that allows communication between the dimensions and ask your cells: “What am I receiving in the now moment from the planet Earth or from the Wind or from the warmth of the sun? What am I receiving now from listening to the songs of the birds? What am I receiving now from the feeling all around me? This air around me?”

When you ask a question, you are triggering a communication process and there is always an answer to this communication process.

What do most human beings do? They ask the question and then they anticipate they will hear with their physical ears or have sudden miraculous sounds in their head to receive the answer. But I am telling you the answer comes softly, comes with humility, comes with discretion, to touch your heart using your intuition, using your communication abilities, be it your imagination, an image in your thoughts, a souvenir, a memory, be it an emotion and anything that is part of you. All those are energies aware that they are being used by the consciousness to carry the answer to your question.

You, as a human being, have the ability to observe the movement of energies inside you to decode the answer, to receive the answer, to detect the answer. But what is happening? Since it is happening inside of you, with the movement of energies inside you, be it an emotion, be it a thought, an idea, a souvenir, a memory; you do not recognize the answer. You say: “This is not the answer!” Because you think the answer should come in a specific format.

We are telling you, my brothers and I from the healing planet, start believing in yourself. Start to listen to the movement of energies inside of you. These energies are intelligent. They carry intelligence. They carry a language that you are able to perceive, to understand. But the biggest barrier, the biggest challenge you have to face is your ability to accept that you have the possibility. You have the tools inside you to receive the answer. You have this ability.

The second challenge is to believe in yourself, to believe the movements of energies inside you. You do not believe the movements of energies inside you. You do not believe in the Power of Life inside of you. You prefer to believe somebody else, another human being talking loud into your ears or you prefer to believe a book where you can read a sentence.

Today we are opening a portal of communication, an interdimensional portal of communication for each one of you, an interdimensional portal of communication between kingdoms. Your kingdom inside of you, which is your emotions, your thoughts, your filters, your creativity, all that is alive inside of you, including your physical body. This becomes your multidimensional tool for communication, all of that you are, all this energy that you are, that you carry inside out, all the energy around you and inside of you. This, beloved ones, is your tool to decode the message of Creation. It is your tool, that has been given to you, to be able to communicate with All That Is, all life forms in your 3D dimension and all other dimensions, from your kingdom inside you to the kingdom outside of you, the animal kingdom, the plant kingdom, the crystal kingdom, the bird kingdom, the marine kingdom, all the kingdoms. This is your precious tool, beloved ones.

And today I, from the healing planet, am inviting you to recognize, to acknowledge the power of this tool that you are using. You are the communication tool that is multidimensional, all of that you are, these energies that are inside of you. All these movements, this life inside of you is your language to communicate with the dimensions, with the other kingdoms.

So today we are inviting you to say “yes” to the Power inside you. We are inviting to say “yes” to acknowledge your ability to understand, using what you are; to understand the communication between your heart and the Heart of All That Is. You are able to do it! You have been prepared. You carry this ability. You carry this connection from your heart, your heart is Pure Love and Pure Love, it understands Life in all dimensions of all life forms, you have this ability inside of you. And if you accept, acknowledge that you have this ability inside of you, you will start to understand how to decode the communication from heart to heart, from consciousness to consciousness. The consciousness outside of you, around you and your consciousness inside of you, from all kingdoms.

This is the message we wanted to transmit to you today. Stop asking around you! Stop looking around you! Start to feel the energy inside you. How it moves. How it touches you. How it is explaining to you. How it is teaching you.

Dare to walk that path! To acknowledge: “I have this ability to communicate with All That Is. I have this ability to decode the language. I have all the tools I need inside of me. I just need to accept that these tools are there and accept that I am learning to feel and to understand these tools and I accept this power is inside of me. And this power, from the minutes I have said “yes”, is growing inside of me. I am divinely guided to understand, to feel, to receive, and to give, to receive an answer, and to question, and to receive a teaching, and to communicate my feelings, my joy, my gratitude.”

You do not have to go and ask questions to anybody. Each one of you is able to perceive and receive answers, teachings from the Kingdom of Light, from the kingdoms that are sharing this beautiful planet with you, from our kingdom, the Tree Kingdom.

You are blessed with this power. We are inviting to explore this power, to accept this power, to use this power; and to share this power among yourselves, to share your findings, to share your discoveries, your adventures. You are invited to learn this new language, the language of Love, the language from the heart, the language of Life inside you. Because in all the dimensions, we are using the language of the Life to communicate, to receive information and to give information, to share our Love, to be in service to All That Is.

You have been invited to let go of the fears, let go of the limitations, let go of all that is inhibiting you from believing in your power, from trusting Life. You have been invited to let go of all that is heavy inside you, from your other experiences in this lifetime or other lifetimes, or other dimensions.

We are inviting you to let go of your doubt about your capacities to understand, to listen, communicate with the multidimensional kingdom. You do not need to carry this doubt anymore. You do not need this type of energy anymore in your life. You just need to open your arms, open your heart to the True Life, to the Unlimited Life, to the Unconditional Infinite Life inside you.

I am One. I am One with you in this now moment. We are receiving, acknowledging your Light from where we are sitting, where we are observing you from our dimension, the healing planet. Thank You!
