

Translated by Janine Leclerc

Message from Christ

Without your acknowledgment,

I cannot act inside of you!

Joy! Deep and true joy resides in my Heart at this moment. I salute you. I greet each one of you because I have extended my Consciousness to envelop yours, to caress your consciousness, your heart: my Life inside you. I am the One whom you call the living Christ. Not that Christ outside of you, but the One who lives within you because, in reality, we are One! We are the Essence of Life, we are the living Consciousness, the Consciousness of Love that sustains Life in this dimension, as one Heart, One Consciousness, One Life!

As you hear these words, my dear children, my shooting stars on the surface of this planet, I invite you to feel this Life inside you, to feel my Light, to feel my Presence in you. I am inviting each one of you today to express the intention to recognize Me inside yourself, more and more every day.

Recognize Me in yourself when you are depressed, when you are looking for work. Recognize Me in yourself when you suffer, when you feel like a wretch. I invite you to acknowledge Me, the Source of the Almighty in this world. And why? Because without your acknowledgment, I cannot act. Do you understand those words, my dear children? Without your acknowledgment, I cannot act inside of you; I cannot radiate My Light, the Love that I Am inside of you.

Your belief about yourself is what limits my Almighty Action in your Life. Do you realize? You are the primary source of the creation of your own life; of all the energies that you attract to you, that you authorize to come to you. It is you, the absolute creator, who holds the key to the treasures that are within you, who holds the key to this warehouse of Light and Love inside you. So far, very few of you have dared to take this key and open this warehouse of Love; have dared to allow it to spread into your life, to radiate into your life. And why is that? My dear children, listen very carefully to these words: you do not believe it, you simply do not believe it.

You do not believe in the Power of My Presence in you. Why? Because you, the blessed temple of my Presence in this dimension, you judge: you do not accept this truth that I may be present within you, that I express myself through each of you. Because you judge the words you pronounce, you judge the actions you take, you judge the relations you maintain. You judge them, you polarize them as good or evil; positive or negative; black or white.

I say to you, all that is perfect. Everything you live, all the emotions you feel, all the words you utter are magical, powerful, they are a living and active creation. You do not recognize your power: that is, my Power inside you! So, what words should you listen to, hear, read in order that one day you accept this truth?

It is the way you see yourself, my children; that perception that limits the action of the magic of Life in you. When you do not love yourself, when you criticize yourself, compare yourself, judge yourself, you cut yourself off from my Life of Love Action Power in you and around you. You literally cut yourself off from the active Power of the Life of Love which is around you, in which you bathe, and which offers you my Universe on a silver platter every morning.

How do you see yourself in the mirror in the morning? How do you welcome this new day when you wake up? What emotion is going through you? Know that it is these emotions, these thoughts you maintain day after day that limit my Action within you. My Action that only wants to bring you my Abundance, My Health, my Perfection. For Am I not the Living Christ, the Great Life of Love in action in this dimension that comes to reveal itself to the human heart, comes to reveal itself to the consciousness of the planet, to this consciousness in the third dimension?

So, what will you decide my dear children, you the all-powerful? Will you choose to nourish this bond with Me, this power with Me? It is your way of looking at my Presence within you which dictates, which authorizes my Power to circulate within you. And know that this Power, in your heart, is the Power of the Universe in action and that This Power is connected to the whole Universe.

This Power, if you allow it, if you believe in it, if you choose to nourish it, to make it grow, this Power will reconnect you to all the abundance you can imagine at all levels of your life, for I Am the Life alive in everything! I know you, I know this Universe. I know the abundance I created in this dimension and every day, I offer it to you!

Remember, the Power of my Life is in you! Today, I invite each of you, children of my Power in action in this dimension, to choose yourself, to choose the magic of Life, to choose to believe in it! The first step is to choose to believe in it! If you utter only empty words, words that you have heard, words to which you aspire to believe one day, then these words remain a dead letter. For it is you who breathe life into the words you pronounce by your belief, by your faith. It is you who define the words you use, the words you pronounce, the thoughts you maintain, the beliefs you nourish. It is you who give them life. You are the creator!

So, today, will you choose the path of joy; will you choose to live the expansion, the radiance, the connection? Will you choose True Life? Or will you still choose to define yourself as a human who struggles, who finds Life difficult; who presents himself ever day in front of a hard, cumbersome, heavy labor? If, in your consciousness, in your heart, you see life with a miserable look, remember my dear children, it is that miserable look that creates your life. You dictate, you use the Power of the Life inside you to maintain, to create this miserable life.

This vision, my children, this look creates. What you accept as a truthful belief within you becomes your truth, your universe, your creation: it is a mathematical law. You, the suns of my Heart; you, the flowers of my garden; you, the precious gems of my Crown in this dimension, each one of you; I have come today to share these words so that you shed a new look on yourself, on that unlimited, unexplored potential that inhabits you, on my Presence in you.

This potential of Love that knows no beginning nor end. This potential of Love which is linked to eternal Life, to joy, to all your heart's desires, to all that fills your most grandiose, most fantastic and most magical dreams! You are the starting point of everything that happens in your life. You are the sum of all the beliefs you have maintained in this life and in your past lives. It is harvest time!

Well! Today, I invite you to open wide your arms and bless this harvest that comes to you. Whether this harvest is called: headaches, terrible migraines. Whether this harvest is called: what a beautiful car Life has given me. Whether this beautiful harvest is a smile on the face of a stranger. Whether this beautiful harvest is the privilege of falling asleep in a soft bed in the evening.

Everything is energy! You are reaping the total sum of the energies you have triggered since your incarnation in this dimension.

I invite you to cast a different look because, by taking a different look at your life today, you are repolarizing the energy of this whole situation, these relationships, this physical body, this temple. You repolarize your perception of what fills your world at this moment, you repolarize your life toward abundance, love, peace. Whether it is inside of you or outside of you; you are responsible for it. Aren't you in the university of creators? You are in the university of creators presently in this dimension.

It would be time for each of you to welcome this truth and take responsibility for it. Do you know that by accepting that all that is in your life now is your creation, you are taking a step towards your liberation; that fifty percent of the step you make, is a step towards your liberation? And that the other fifty percent will magnetize itself in Love, as if by enchantment; for the Universe will recognize that you are becoming more and more aware that you are the Creator. The Universe will realize that, finally, a child of the Consciousness One is awakening to his power!

Mama Mia! Let us shake Heaven and Earth; let us shake the multi-dimensions! This child of my Love is awakening, he is realizing the Power that inhabits him. That everything around him or her or inside is his own creation. Isn't that extraordinary? Isn't that wonderful? Isn't it powerful?

By recognizing your responsibility, you take a step towards the Universe and know that it is the Universe that takes the other step towards you. And from that moment on, you start a new movement, you trigger new energies, you open a new door: that of your association with my Power in you and around you!

I say these words, my dear children, for one single purpose: to participate in the creation of your new life; to participate in your liberation from what keeps you chained to your beliefs of abandonment, guilt. Your beliefs that you are a mere human being, your beliefs of limitations.

Today I come among you in these energies that are enveloping you at this moment, to touch your heart and open the door to your freedom. Open the door so that my Power, the Power of Great Life can finally radiate, without hindrance, with your accord, your blessing, your union with Me; as One Unique Sun, One Unique Energy, One Unique Flame in this dimension.

These are the words I wanted to share with you. These are the energies I poured into your heart today and into the hearts of all my children on Earth! I Am the Life! I Am the Christ! I Am the Love radiating in you and around you, radiating on all this planet! ONE united with the consciousness of this planet, the Consciousness of Life in this dimension.

Thank you!