

Message from the Rocks on the Hiking Trail

Listen to life around you! Listen to silence around you! Inside our heart there is silence. We are welcoming you into our house, into our heart. You are presently surrounded by our energy of silence. We invite you to listen to the silence of your heart in this now moment.

All the other sounds that you hear are part of life, of creation. This is fine as it is. But at the same time, listen to the silence of eternity within you. We want to share this with you. Silence can bring you all the knowledge, insight and sound you are wishing for.

Silence is the foundation of creation, beloved ones. This is what we are practicing here, and this is the message we want to transmit and teach to our children of planet earth, the human being part of humanity.

We are here to teach you to listen to the silence in your heart because it is the wave of life that belongs to the network of creation, which supports creation. That wave of life is love and the silence that we are nurturing inside our own structure is part of the network of love. It is a silence that is aware, connected and alive. It is a silence that is listening to the needs of everything around you. It is a communion, a unity listening and teaching at the same time.

When you look around, you see rocks and stones that seem to just be there, standing, doing and pretending nothing, just waiting. However, it is not exactly that way. We are participating in the web of life and creation, not only on this planet, but in all of the universes of the multidimensions. Because the voice and the words you are hearing now are not coming from the structure on which you are seated in this now moment. They are coming from the consciousness that is released from these rocks, which is supporting the life of humanity in this dimension, on this planet. It is the truthfulness of our existence.

We are acting as a foundation to enable humanity to grow and experiment density. Humanity needed a base, a foundation to be able to experience a living and physical body in density. We, the Masters of Eternity, are here supporting silence, we are the silence of love. The silence that enables all living beings, all consciousness to listen and merge with the knowing they are looking for. To merge with wisdom, to listen to the teachings of life, to follow their intuitions and inspirations, to create, understand, build, repair and heal. The silence we support and have inside ourselves is the web of all knowledge, the web of consciousness that is spreading its own intelligence, its own wisdom to all of creation. All these parts, portions, these unique energies of consciousness that want to learn and expand can tap into this silence, this wisdom of life and in all the knowledge that is accessible to you.

This is the message we want to share with you, beloved ones. Your heart is the temple of silence within you. When you go into your heart be aware that all knowledge is available to you because your heart is connected to the web of silence, to the web of life in creation

We salute you. We bless you. We listen to you. We know your heart and your frequency since you started walking on this mountain. We are welcoming you into our hearts, into our dimension, the dimension of eternal silence that is linked to the network of the pure wisdom of Creation.

Thank you.

Can I make a question? All questions are welcome!

Thank You, Thank You for the (Inaudible...)

And for listening my petition when I was coming to this mountain this Saturday and I would like to ask if we can expand from here now the love the compassion and the gratitude to all planet and to other planets?

Answer: This request is marvelous! The eternal silence is the network of love throughout this galaxy, the solar system and all creation. And, so it is! We are extending this wave of light and life, colored with your intention. We are in this now moment connecting to all the planets of this solar system, spreading love, peace, unity, harmony, respect, love, love and love.
