

Advice from the Labyrinth (0928)

I am inviting you to embrace yourself in this now moment. Embrace each other, embrace the Love that you are, embrace who you are in this now moment because who you think you are is diminishing so much the true value of who you truly are inside of you. So today, I choose to support your greatness by adding the support and the anchoring inside of you.

Message from Labyrinth (0928) Elemental Fairies

Listen to the noise, the sounds around you. Listen to the birds. Feel the air. Feel your body. You are experiencing a moment of eternity now if you decide, if you choose to call this a moment of eternity. It is a moment of eternity because in fact this is Consciousness, the One Consciousness in all Creation and you are part of this Creation and you are part of this Consciousness so you are Consciousness in action.

Because you are a part of Consciousness, you can choose to experience and feel a moment of Eternity from any dimension, any situation and any emotion. You just have to be aware, to decide on your own: "This is a moment of Eternity that I am experimenting from this dimension using a physical body." Even though you cannot change your perception, you can add to this perception by saying: "I am discovering, experimenting the true nature of Eternity within a limited illusion and a limited experience in the density. "

By thinking these words, you open a door. You are saying to the Universe that you know who you are. You know you are part of Eternity and you know you are just experimenting in the world of density, in a specific dimension on a specific planet, but you do not recognize that you are only that experience. That means you open the door and ask the Universe to guide you, to discover and perceive yourself as your true nature

In this density, this labyrinth represents the pathway to experiment a frequency while thinking that you understood this experience, this frequency. Only a little bit later you come back again almost with the same situation, but with a slight variation of the frequency. 3.06 Basically it is all the same thing, but you will never be doing the same thing. You never experiment the exact same thing as there is always something added. This is a frequency that is adding to the simulated frequency that you are experimenting in this dimension.

So, you see this picture, this structure around you is explaining the life in this physical world and all of these experiences bring you to the centre, the centre of who you truly are, the One that is One with Eternity, One with Love, One with Oneness, One with Source. It is so simple!

I am inviting you to integrate this design within you to help you come back to who you truly are inside of you: your heart, your consciousness, your feelings, your thought pattern, yourself. Because you are here for yourself. You are experimenting in this dimension for yourself. You did not come to save the world, you did not come to help your neighbour, your friends, your spouse, your children. You come for you! You are experimenting different frequencies to grow, to walk toward your own perfection.

I am not saying that you should think only about yourself. No! I am saying everything you experience in this dimension is for your own benefit, for your own growth. You are learning through experience, to experiment these frequencies, these actions, these words, these feelings, these thoughts. You are experimenting, but you are not this experience. You are just feeling, absorbing the knowledge, the discernment, the wisdom of these experiences to grow from inside to recognize that you belong to Life.

Each one of you knows about this. You have this wisdom! It is just that today I want to make a point that you have to walk towards this wisdom inside of you. You have to choose it. You have to decide and choose to let this wisdom grow inside of you and guide you, because perfection is already there all around you.
